Husband Who Beat Bodenheim in Taxi with Wife to Seek Divorce.

The wallops and kicks Rudolph J. Gloor showered on Dr. Herman Bodenhelm of New York after pulling him from a taxicab Monday evening were just a Christmas retaliation for presents of "love and kisses to my baby from Dr. H. B."

Mr. Gloor intercepted the love and kisses. He had reason to believe that my baby" for whom they were intended was Mrs. Gloor. Mrs. Gloor was in the taxicab when Mr. Gloor boarded latest ultimatum of the administrait and pulled the chemist and physician out in the fresh air to get his medicine.

Redolent of Love.

Mr. Gloor asserts a letter and telegram which never reached his wife's hands will form the basis for an action in divorce soon. He says Dr. Bodenheim sent both. Both ended with protestations of love. In the letter, from Youngstown, O., the writer says: " I have called you on the long distance telephone last Officials were inclined to take into night to invite you to spend Sunday with consideration that a reply might have me here, but you were not at home. HOUSE CONTROL HELD BY HANDFUL OF INDEPENDENTS

Neither Democrats Nor Republicans Will Have Majority for Speaker.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26.-Revised figures on returns of the last election show definitely that neither Democrats nor Republicans will have a majority of the next house, necesary to elect a speaker, and that a handful of independents will determine which side will control the organization. Conceding seats to candidates in possession of certificates of election, because they are certain to participate in the organization of the house, the personnel now stands:

Republicans .214 Prohibitionist ...
Democrats .218 Socialist
Independents .2 Contested 2 Contested A majority is 218, hence, should either Democrats or Republicans win both of the contests, they still would be short of a majority.

Independents Are Silent. All of the Independents are main aining silence regarding their attitude on the speakership, but the Democrats and Republican leaders have agreed on how most of them will vote, pro vided caucuses are held and solidarity aintained by the two old parties. Kelley of Pennsylvania, a Progressive who formerly was a Democratic mem ber of the house, is listed as a Demo cratic probability. So are Randall, Pro-hibitionist of California, who voted for Corporation Promises to speaker Clark, the last time, and London of New York, Socialist, who sits on the Democratic side now and had been shown favors by Democratic Schall of Minnesota, Progressive, the leaders agree, probably would lean toward a Republican candidate if convinced of his progressivism. Fuller, Independent of Massachusetts, also is classed as a Republican hope. Fight for Martin Vote.

Martin of Louisiana, Progressive, comes from a large sugar district in Louisiana and has incleated that asurances of protection of the sugar interest will be his first concern in voting on the organization.
He formerly was a Democrat, how-

The enemy's trenches on the right bank of the Tigris, southwest of Kut, have been systematically bombarded. Our cavalry by a night march reached and destroyed Gassabs fort, twenty miles southeast of Kut, which had long been a base of operations of the hostile Arabs. Sixty tons of grain were destroyer, cattle were captured, and a number of hostile Arab encampments were burned. The following probably are the final details regarding Maghdabah. The total captures were 1,350 prisoners, including forty-five officers, four mountain guns, three Krupp guns, a large number of rifles, 400,000 rounds of small ammunition, some gun ammunition, a number of horses and camels, and telephone and other equipment. The total enemy engaged numbered 1,900 or 2,000, so practically the

To Prevent U-Boat Raid. The commerce protectors are described as large and powerful[but capable of fair speed. They are designed, it is said. to meet the German U-boat danger, and in anticipation of an attempted raid off the Canadian coast similar to that made by the U-53 off Nantucket on Oct. 8. At that time shipping men figured that 500 miles of the spot that Capt. Hans Rose deliberately selected in which to operate. THE LEADERLESS UNITED STATES.

The greatest alarmists in the country are in the afraid of the future, the near and imminent future. They say they are afraid of war. They say that

Mr. Wilson seems to have a passion for cryptic phrases indicating alarm. We recall his admonition when he was demanding that congress repeal the Panaina canal toll act. "I do not know how I

No other government in the world would authorin other nations, big or little, such utterances put a moral pressure upon them which they sought have serious import. If made they would prepare to avoid.

Here we can have Mr. Lansing saying that the United States approaches the verge of war and no controversy, had the savvy to protect the nation one pays much attention to it. Mr. Lansing is from consequences. secretary of state, presumably at least a partner of Mr. Wilson in the direction of affairs so delicate ing ourselves against consequences. that they must be secret. The nation cannot be given the full information upon which diplomacy acts, and when it is given an intimation of danger by men in possession of information and in control of the nation's policy the country justly could be alarmed.

We are being brought nearer to war! Consider the statement, made by the secretary of state. It means that the United States faces the possibility of fighting as Canada is fighting and beside Canadians or against the British empire.

It means that the United States, in the opinion of the man who is supposed to direct its foreign affairs, might soon be putting men in khaki; that the mothers, wives, and sisters of men who have enlisted might soon in bitterness be sticking white athers in the hats of able bodied men w in civilian clothes; it means that soon American newspapers might be printing casualty lists; that industries might soon be taken over and converted into ammunition works; that a government which has revealed no talent for organization might soon be called upon to meet the demands for the highest sort of national organization. Such are the possibilities not as THE TRIBUNE OF any other newspaper describes them but as the American government describes them. What, then, is the government doing to make the nation fit to meet these possibilities? Nothing.

Mr. Wilson has been in office nearly four years. From the very beginning of his administration he began to express fear. He told the nation he was afraid of consequences and possibilities. And the United States is a weaker military nation now than it was when Mr. Wilson first began to be frightened by the thought of possibilities.

All that the entente powers had to reply to the Germanic alliance was that they were not ready, They were not victorious, but they were not defeated. LOWDEN'S PROGRAM.

The scheme of administrative reform outlined by Mr. Lowden, governor elect, inclines hopeful citizens of Illinois to think that perhaps it may have been their good fortune to elect a man seasoned in politics and full of experience at a time in his life when inclination, opportunity, and good judgment unite for good state service.

State government is an awkward, wasteful thing, costing much more than it would be worth even if it were as efficient as it could be with its old fashioned methods and much less efficient than it ought to be even with these methods.

Col. Lowden seems to have a real sense of these imperfections and a real program for their eradication. His program has not been revealed in full like the big, dominant, decisive nature that she into the hands of the German army. detail, but the scheme of readjustment as outlined was, she came to a conclusion." promises benefits.

R. JAMES BURRY of the Illinois Steel company, speaking before the National Safety council, stated that the theory that straining caused hernia should be consigned o the scrap heap. This is his reasoning: There cannot be a hernia without a hernial sac. The hernial sac is formed from the peritoneum. Persons who later in life develop hernias are born with hernial sacs. However, these sacs are shut off by constricting rings. In the fourteen times as apt to have a hernia formation of a hernia some parts of the abdominal content, usually a piece of to have a recurrence. mentum or a loop of intestine, is driven against the opening of the hernial sac. It is pushed in a short'distance, then it

Probably he first notices it after a hard coughing spell or after some heavy lifting. He jumps to the conclusion that the strain ruptured to him a hernia which had been present for a long time.

Dr. Burry quotes Paul Berger as saying that in closely examining 130 people with of which complaint was made. PERHAPS THE IDEA WAS TO GIVE US ALL A ninety-six had 196 hernias, 100 of which were unsuspected.

The latest report of the State Public Utilities Commission shows 95 persons lost their lives and 241 were seriously injured in accidents at highway crossings of Illinois railroads, in 1915. The Commission says:

"The transition from team to automobile traffic in the last few years has been remarkable. Automobile drivers will not approach a railroad crossing in the same careful manner as will the driver of a team."

Why Do Accidents Occur at Highway Crossings?

It is not the mere existence of grade crossings that makes them dangerous. It is the way people use them. Human nature is the same in all the states. Here is what the California Railway Commission reports on actual observations of 17,000 motor vehicle drivers at railway crossings:

69.5 per cent looked neither way before crossing the tracks.

2.7 per cent looked in only one direction.

27.8 per cent looked both

This is what the Commission learned as to 4,900 drivers of teams and 6,300 pedestrians, at railway crossings:

Looked neither way 39.4% 49.1% Looked one way only . 15.0 Looked both ways 52.0 35.9 100. %

Some Facts About Grade Crossings

To eliminate the 17,100 grade crossings in Illinois would cost an average of at least $30,000 a crossing, or a total exceeding $500,000,000-a half-billion dollars!

Under the laws of Illinois, part of this enormous sum would have to be paid in direct taxation, by the public.

The remainder would have to be paid by the public in freight and passenger rates. For a railroad is not a mint-it does not coin money. Every penny it pays out must first be paid by the public.

The railroads already have expended over $100,000,000 for track elevation in this State, but, because of the great cost of this work, it is plain that thousands of grade crossings must remain for years to come.

Public Co-Operation Is Necessary

The railroads are doing their part to prevent accidents at highway crossings. They have spent and will spend immense sums for track elevation, watchmen, crossing gates, alarms and in "safety first" campaigns of education.

But accidents of that kind will continue to occur unless the public, too, does its share toward preventing them.

Why should anyone risk life and limb of self and others, rather than take the time at every railroad crossing, to Stop, Look Both Ways

FOR ROWLAND

E. Collins, Jackson, and Weaver Send Christmas Greetings to Pilot.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

That Clarence Rowland, recently re-mounted manager of the Chicago white Sox, will have the stanch support of the stars of the south side team in his efforts to land a pennant for Charles A. Comiskey next season was made quite evident yesterday when nowland received letters from three of the leading lights of the Thirty-fifth street aggregation vowing their support for the coming year.

The letters were from Eddle Collins, ring of second basemen; Joe Jackson, chief slugger, and Buck Weaver, former captain and always intellectual in-fielder. E. Collins expresses, considerble pleasure in the fact that Rowland had been given another chance to lead the south siders and stated that he beleved next year would be the big year er the team. Joe Jackson promised to it 'em just as far and just as hard as he ever did in his life, and Buck Weaver

"OLIVER TWIST" Produced by Lasky. Directed by James Young.

BY MAE TIINEE. was other than an ordeal to be compelled to be a witness to the sufferings of and inhuman treatment inflicted on Oliver Twist. There is something so terrifically harrowing about the realization of agonies endured by helpless little ones. Surely charity as practiced in the time of one Charles Dickens must have been minus all its sweetness—a very Dickens of benevolency! It must be said, however, that the picturisation of this sordid and piteous tale has been exceptionally well done. There could not have been a scrawnier or more pathetic little Oliver than Marie Doro and the other characters are all as well drawn. As is cus-tomary with Lasky pictures, the settings and photography are excellent, and

In the condensing of the story for picture uses it was necessary to take some liberties. Without having done so the subject would have had to dawdle through at least eight reels. By a little shifting of characters, events, and places, however, in five reels the tale is told with a comparative correctness that will, I think, make the most rigid teacher admit it worthy the seeing of

The story you will remember is that of the child of uncertain antecedents.

Dishonest dealers, I am told, thaw these quickly in water and sell them as fresh caught fish. The frozen fish cost less, and it is safer to do the thawing in your own kitchen and use then as soon as they have thawed out.

To Thaw Fish. If frozen fish are allowed to thaw out at room temperature and are used at once, before they can "break down" and soon after spoil, they lose so little of their flavor that few people can tell that they are not fresh caught. They thaw more quickly in cold water, but this is not the best way. Baked Trout.

Prepare the trout by thawing and deahing and put under it two or three thin slices of rather lean salt pork and one or two over it, with some slices of onion and the solid part of a can of tomatoes. Specked tomatoes, often sold at 10 cents a small basket in the winter, may be stewed and be perfectly good for such uses as this. When salt pork is used with fish, be careful about adding salt. Large trout may be cooked in

FAMOUS MISSION INN VISITED BY THOUSANDS.

First Navel Orange Tree Planted at Picturesque Mission Inn by Roosevelt.

California not one out of a thousand fails to see the famous Mission Inn at River-side. This wonderful work of architecture is the combination of a lifetime desire by its builder, Frank Miller, who probably knows more about mission architecture than any other man in the entire world. than any other man in the entire world. The Inn is unlike any other hostelry. It combines within its lofty cloistered walls, spacious sun-lit courts and shadowed Moorish corridors, the peace of an old mission in the days of the Padres, the luxurious service of a great modern hotel, the lure of an immense museum of antiques and the added charm of a vast institution shrouded in an atmosphere of past centuries. One cannot appreciate the wonder, the grandeur and the historic significance that the famous Inn is noted for, unless the famous Inn is noted for, unless quainted with the history of the rlow Mission Inn Was Established In 1872 Captain C. C. Miller of Tomah, Wisconsin, came to California with his family, seeking health for Mrs. Miller, and immediately afterward became the surveyor of the new colony developing at Riverside, and soon became chief engineer of the con tion of the valley's first irrigation. When the Millers came to Riverthe mile square of Riverside property. The Millers had four children-Frank, Alice, Emma and Edward. Mr. Miller, with the assistance of his son Frank, built a little adobe homestead on a patch of ground secured as back payment of salary ground secured as back payment of salary from the company for which he worked. Next door was the Tibbetts house where boarders were taken and it was the first Riverside hotel. In 1877 when some of the directors of the water company were visiting the townsite, the Tibbetts house burned down and C. C. Miller, as the company's engineer, put them up during the rest of their visit. The Tibbets were not able to rebuild and the Miller family took upon ebuild and the Miller family took upon themselves the duty of providing lodging and board for strangers who might come to the town. Owing to the excellent cooking and the hospitable environment of the Miller home, patronage grew and it was al., the Miller home became quite a

With the growth of Riverside as an orange district the possibilities as a resort place were seen and the Glenwood Tavern, as the Miller boarding house was called, grew still further. In 1880 Frank Miller married Isabelle Hardenberg, a young school teacher.

In the '90s Riverside had developed so much and the possibility of it as a touring center had become so strong that Frank and Mrs. Miller began to plan a large hotel—one that was to be typical of the country.

Visited by President Roosevelt

After new delays, in 1903 the New Glenwood, all in the mission style with Spanish tile architecture, with its many arches, balconies and pergolas covered with mission grapes, had replaced the Glenwood Tavern, built in the 90s, and this was in time for president Roosevelt's visit to California. He spent the night at the new hotel and eft an ineffaceable memento of his coming by officiating at the ceremony when the original navel orange tree was transplanted to the patis in front of the little homestead from the Tibbitts' grove.

Comprehensive Study of Historic

Architecture Made by Miller

In 1906 President Roosevelt had accorded Frank Miller a concession to build a hotel in Yosemite Valley and with Mrs. Miller and their daughter Alice, he went abroad to study the European hotels. In the course of the trip there was an extended visit to Italy and especially to Assisi to mote where the Franciscan order and building started, since California was founded by Franciscans, and the family came back from the journey with all sorts of new ideas for a new addition. These were worked out in 1909 in the Choister. The thoughts and conceptions of Assisi, of the cathedral organ recitals at Lucerne and of the imported architectural bits of the California Missions were combined in the solid concrete addition of which the music room is the principal feature.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, with his daughter and her husband, made their first trip to Spain in 1911. The journey was made to purchase true Spanish turniture for the Cloister—especially fine old pieces for the Music Room—to see at first and what Spanish architecture in Spain was like. The investigators went to a great number of important historical cities of Southern Spanish architecture in Spain was like. The investigators went to a great number of important historical cities of Southern France, went to practically all such cities in Spain, and spent altogether aix months in the quest of old things. The young people spent another six months in returning to California by way of the Orient. The chief and almost sole purpose of this further journey being the hunt for bells for the bell collection, which was already becoming famous.

for the bell collection, which was already becoming famous.

Early in 1912 the things purchased in Spain and Southern France began to arrive week by week, and as they came it was realized for the first time what a great amount of plunder there was and that the Mission lan now possessed the best lot of Spainsh wrought iron grills and balcony rais to be found outside of Spain. The result was a tremendous expansion of the Curio Shop, which had previously been a very small affair, until now the shop is an important feature of the hotel business and lite, as it is a real museum of things Spanish.

A new building period followed and the Spanish Wings and Court were read-tor the Exposition travelers of 1915, exhibiting for them the fascination of the old Spanish.

Hotels That Are Homelike-

you'll find them in California. Many are built in the old Mission style of architecture. Their rooms are made cozy by charming decorations and furnishings. Great bowls of fresh flowers perfume them and the lilting song of birds floats in through the open windows. There is none of the stiffness that characterizes the usual hotel bedroom-and yet these hotels are as luxurious as any you've ever seen. Plan your trip to the Golden State this very day.

Merchants Loan and Trust Co., Chicago. TRANSFER AGENT

From a letter of Mr. Silas J. Llewellyn, President of the Interstate Iron & Steel Company, Chicago, we summarize the salient features of this issue as follows: The Interstate Iron & Steel Co., which has been in successful operation since 1905, has purchased all of the plants and properties of the Grand Crossing Tack Co. of Chicago, which has also been highly successful since its founding in 1883.

The consistent earning power of these companies is conclusively evidenced by the fact that since their organization they have, solely from earnings, accumulated assets of $5,750,000.

The combined properties for the calendar year 1916 will show earnings of $1,542,114 available for Preferred Stock dividends, or twenty-two times the annual dividend requirements: Neither the Interstate Iron & Steel Co. nor the Grand Crossing Tack Co. has ever accepted any munitions orders, so that the records made are based on their regular domestic business. Net assets equal $3,260,000, or $326 for each $100 share of Preferred Stock.

Net quick assets equal $1,920,000, or $192 for each share of Preferred Stock.

The annual sinking fund retires 5% of maximum outstanding stock.

The management will remain in the hands of the men who have successfully built up the company to its present position of prominence in the iron and steel industry. No additional Preferred Stock may be issued, unless the total Net Assets of the Company, after deducting all indebtedness, shall be equal, after giving effect to the sale of the stock, to at least double the amount of the Preferred Stock outstanding, including that proposed to be issued, and the earnings applicable to Preferred Stock dividends are equal to at least three times the annual dividend charge on all Preferred Stock outstanding, including that proposed to be issued.

No indebtedness (except bonds now authorized), maturing later than one year from the date thereof, or any new mortgage, or any other stock ranking prior to or pari passu with the preferred shares shall be created, without the assent of the holders of 75% of the Preferred Stock outstanding.

In the opinion of counsel, this stock is exempt from Personal Property Taxes in Illinois and the income received therefrom is exempt from the payment of the Normal Federal Income Tax.

All legal details pertaining to this issue have been supervised and approved by Messrs. Newman, Poppenhusen & Stern, Attorneys-at-law, Chicago. Books and accounts of the company have been audited by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., Certified Public Accountants, Chicago, and the plants of the Company appraised by Mr. Julian of title and trusteesing of the bond issues is also a big factor.

We have customers in nearly every state in the Union, from coast of Maine to the Golden Gate—including the small saver and the big bank. All our loans are on Chicago property, handled aby our own large retting department to insure proper management and to further safeguard the purchasers of our bonds. We have bonds maturing in from one to seven years, in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and 1,000.

Chicago Title and Trust Company

69 W. WASHINGTON ST.

The economic readjustment which of necessity will follow the war in Europe will disturb real estate mortgage loans less than any other form of credits. The Chicago Title and Trust Company loans its trust funds on mortgages in Chicago and vicinity. These loans usually become due in five years and they are secured by property remote from any possible seat of war. Real estate loans always bring a high rate of interest. This company is positively abreast of the times in all matters connected with real estate.

HYDRAULIC POWER COMPANY OF NIAGARA FALLS

Refunding & Improvement Mortgage 5% Bonds Authorized, $10,000,000 Outstanding, $3,000,000 Dated October 1st, 1916. Due October 1st, 1951. Interest payable April 1st and October 1st. Redeemable at Company's option at 105 and accrued interest on any interest date on two months' notice.

Secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct mortgage on the power canal, power plants, buildings, penstocks, turbines, equipment, real estate and other specified property of the Company, subject only to $3,500,000 First and Refunding (Closed) Mortgage 5% Bonds.

The Hydraulic Power Company owns the oldest power plant now using the waters of the Niagara River for power purposes, and has, in the opinion of counsel, an established right to at least 6,500 cubic feet of water per second for its hydraulic canal at Niagara Falls. Total bonded debt per horse-power development is considered to be lower than that of any other large power company in the United States. Total income reported for calendar year 1916 (three months estimated), available for bond interest, equivalent to over three times annual interest requirement on total bonded debt, including $3,000,000 Refunding and Improvement Mortgage Price on application

Descriptive circular furnished on request.
